

Hike The Alleghenies Allegrippis Trails Raystown Lake

Easy Loop (3.8 Miles)

The Allegrippis Trails were constructed in 2008-2009 on U.S. Army Corps of Engineers property by the International Mountain Bicycling Association (IMBA) and the Friends of Raystown Lake as sustainable multi-use trails. The single-track trails are designed as a stacked loop system providing different experiences for different trail users. There is much hype around the trails in the mountain bike community, but the trails are just as impressive for hikers too.

The trail surface is mainly smooth with a little rock thrown in here and there.
